Introduction for Janie Jasin (Sounds like JAY-NEE JAY-SIN)

NOTE TO THE PERSON INTRODUCING JANIE:

It would be most helpful if you would announce this with your opening comments and after Janie speaks. "Janie will be autographing her books following the program so do stop to say hello and get your personalized copy."

Janie has been talking to audiences for 30 years. Name an audience and she has probably met them along the way. From The Mayo Clinic to Medtronic, from teens to seniors, dog groomers to hairdressers, prison inmates to volunteers. She has been in front of three million people in audiences across the North American Continent and now she faces YOU! She is the author of "The Littlest Christmas Tree" which has sold over 1 million copies. She was chosen "Best Speaker at The Association for Therapeutic Humor.

"Awards and accolades are wonderful," she says, but none more important than being the mom of three grown children and grandmother of Natalie and Patrick.

Janie has been on an amazing life's journey filled with surprises and she can't wait to tell you about it.

She says, "Just when I thought it was over, there was another chapter with some sweet surprises."

Please give a warm welcome to Janie Jasin!

(After Janie's speech, please say)

"Janie will be autographing her books following the program so do stop to say hello and get your personalized copy. Please say autographing not selling.
