“Earl Bakken danced with you, returned to hear you, and all of the good memories.”

~ Karen Larson, Medtronic executive assistant

“You saved our meeting!”

~ Dan Maddux, American Payroll Association

“Janie Jasin is absolutely the best self-esteem speaker you’ll ever hear.”

~ Jack Canfield, author Chicken Soup for the Soul

Her classic book, The Littlest Christmas Tree, is part of holiday tradition in more than a million homes.

“WHY DOESN’T SOMEBODY START SOMETHING?”

This was Janie’s father’s motto during the great depression. As an entrepreneur and businessman he wove this message into success. Today Janie delivers the motto with optimism, hope, and joy. She invites you to “start things” in the 21st century. In this high tech era of creativity and invention we must be present to validate and encourage our children, coworkers, and neighbors.

Janie has an over-the-top sense of purpose, humor, and heart. While folks are laughing, she delivers powerful thoughts for them to chew on and take away.

Her message is laced with affirming wisdom and the experience of being in front of thousands in audiences for 30 years. She delivers words with authenticity, expertise, success, faith, and HUMOR.

Associations, healthcare providers, aging conferences, corporations, and women’s expos love Janie Jasin. She will turn your theme, motto or message into a cheer, a song, or a poem on the spot.
